

You will need:

- Bowl-shaped terracotta pot
- Dried aromatic flowers or potpourri mix (we used lavender heads)
- Paintbrushes (including an artists' brush)
- PVA glue
- Resene Multishield+ gloss
- Resene Terracotta Sealer
- Resene testpots of Resene Subzero and Resene Tory Blue
- Self-hardening clay (we used 'Das')

Step one

Break off a small piece of self-hardening clay and knead it into a ball.

Step two

Spread a little PVA glue around the hole in the bottom of the terracotta pot and press the ball of clay into the hole, as shown. Leave overnight for the glue and clay to dry.

Step three

Apply one coat of Resene Terracotta Sealer to the pot and allow to dry.

Step four

Apply one coat of Resene Subzero to the outside of the pot and allow two hours to dry.

Step five

Apply a second coat of Resene Subzero to the outside of the pot. Before the paint has a chance to dry, mix in dabs of Resene Tory Blue to create a mottled effect, as shown. Leave to dry.

Step six

Apply one coat of Resene Tory Blue to the outer rim and inside of the pot, as shown, and allow two hours to dry.

Step seven

Apply a second coat of Resene Tory Blue to the outer rim and inside of the pot. Before the paint has a chance to dry, mix in a few dabs of Resene Subzero to create a mottled effect, as shown. Leave to dry.

Step eight

Apply three coats of Resene Multishield+ to the pot, allowing two hours for each coat to dry, and then fill with dried aromatic flowers or potpourri mix.

Create this natural air freshener from a simple terracotta bowl and a couple of Resene testpots.

To get the look:

Mark painted the background wall with Resene SpaceCote Flat tinted to Resene Sail.
