

★★★ Difficulty level ★ easy ★★ moderate ★★★ challenging

Weekend DIY with Mark Rayner – 61

You will need:

- Artists' brushes
- Paintbrush
- Resene Clearcoat UVS
- Resene Terracotta Sealer
- Resene testpots of Resene Brown Pod, Resene California, Resene Green House, Resene Malibu
- Terracotta pot

Step one

Apply one coat of Resene Terracotta Sealer to the terracotta pot and allow to dry.

Step two

Apply one coat of Resene Malibu to the outside and inner rim of the pot and allow to dry.

Step three

Apply a second coat of Resene Malibu to the outside and inner rim of the pot and allow to dry.

Step four

Paint the centre of the sunflower on the front of the pot using Resene Brown Pod. Allow to dry.

Step five

Paint the sunflower petals, as shown, using Resene California. Allow to dry.

Step six

Paint the sunflower stalk and leaves, as shown, using Resene Green House. Allow to dry.

Step seven

Apply a second coat of each colour and allow to dry.

Step eight

Apply one coat of Resene Clearcoat UVS to the outside and inner rim of the pot and allow to dry.

Transform a plain terracotta pot into a colourful garden feature with a little bit of help from Resene.

To get the look:

Mark stained the bench with Resene Woodsman tinted to Resene Japanese Maple.

Other ideas:

Create a fabulous daisy pot painting the centre with Resene Bright Spark and the petals with Resene Alabaster.

For more ideas and inspiration visit your local Resene ColorShop or www.resene.com/colorshops.

Check out more project ideas online www.resene.com/projects.